An international best-selling author, Online Engagement Strategist, Fully Licensed Real Estate Agent and avid real estate investor, Wendy Chamberlain combines her 20+ years in the IT industry (Wendy holds a Computing Degree) with her love of all things real estate.

Having thrown in her high-powered, six figure job with its $45 million budgets and gut wrenching stress, Wendy created a real estate education website showing enthusiastic would-be property owners how to get started in real estate.

In 2009 Wendy established Savvy Web Women, employing her unique ability to decode the "geek speak" and "techno-babble" using simple, plain English to help savvy business owners better understand social media and navigate the online world.

Wendy has bought and sold many properties in her own portfolio over the past 20 years using various investment strategies. She has helped her clients buy and sell dozens more.

Through launching Social Property Selling and embracing her role as a property finder and vendor advocate, working with clients selling their homes, Wendy has realised two passions – real estate and computers – and she brings to the table her considerable experience and expertise in both arenas.
